

NOTICE

CLIMB

Before you grow too old...

When you are still young

Climb a tree
Climb higher
Climb as high as you can Climb and hope that no one is watching you

Then:
Look out at the world and wonder

Then:
Climb another tree
Climb a tree once a week for forty weeks

If you really are young enough:
Climb a tree once a year for forty years

Climbing a tree, looking out at the world and wondering might be one of the most full-of-wonder things you could do

Climbing a tree, looking out at the world and wondering might be something that could never be done in any art gallery anywhere in the world

Before you do any of the above listen to Tommy McLain singing...

Before I Grow Too Old
