FIND

If the sun is shining and you have nothing better to do

Go out into the world and find a shadow

Find a shadow that you have never seen before

Find a shadow that you will never see again

And...

Wonder what shadows are for

And...

Wonder when it was that the first shadow was ever cast in this Universe

And...

Wonder when it was that the first human wondered at the beauty of finding a shadow that had not been found before

And...

Go and find something else that has never been found before
